

Condor expands partnership with Brazilian airline GOL

From Aracaju to Manaus – 18 new destinations across Brazil

Kelsterbach, 23 November 2010 – Through its cooperation with the airline GOL, Condor now serves 18 additional destinations right across Brazil. The new destinations, which include Aracaju, Manaus, Porto Seguro, São Luís and Porto Alegre, are offered via Salvador da Bahia.

Paradise beaches, tropical rainforest, vibrant cities – Condor passengers can now experience a whole new side to Brazil's enormous diversity.

“For many German holiday-makers, much of Brazil is still uncharted territory. Our new connections mean they can now conveniently explore places like Aracaju in the North-East, the natural paradise of Fernando de Noronha, or Manaus, the capital of Amazonia,” explains Achim Lameyer, Vice President Passenger Sales at Condor. The cooperation between Condor and GOL means changing flights is now stress-free: passengers' luggage is checked right through from Germany to their final destination in Brazil.

Condor passengers once again also have the option of buying an Air Pass. With an Air Pass, passengers can book flights at IATA travel agencies for three different destination zones centring on the Condor airports of Salvador da Bahia and, from summer 2011, Recife. This enables them to discover Brazil independently. Within zone 1, which covers the North-East of Brazil, passengers can book three flights from 300 euros. Zone 2 gives passengers access to the whole of Brazil, from 400 euros for four flights. Zone 3 includes a wide range of destinations in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Paraguay, with four flights available from 600 euros.
