

More choice on board: Condor Sky Meals

Additional meals on board for short and medium-haul flights from 1 May 2014

Frankfurt, 31st March 2014 - Condor is adding new Sky Meals to its meals offer on short and medium-haul flights from 1 May 2014. As of now, these well-priced meals can be ordered at prices starting from € 7.99 depending on the time of booking up to 24 hours before departure to complement the wide range of excellent premium and special meals. Passengers who have not booked a meal will receive a free sandwich on board, and can also indulge in a range of cold and - now new - hot snacks.

Condor already provides passengers with premium meals on its aircraft in a wide range of special options including, for instance, lactose-free and vegetarian meals for an enjoyable start to their holiday. From 1 May 2014, Condor passengers on short and medium-haul flights will also be able to choose from other delicacies to suit their own personal taste: The ever-popular classic "Schnitzel with sautéed potatoes" is on offer, as are tasty "King prawns with basmati rice" or a fresh "Salad platter with mozzarella".

As before, passengers who have not yet booked an individual meal will continue to receive a free meal on all short and medium-haul routes. The sandwich and beverages selection of water, coffee and tea can be complemented according to individual requests and tastes with other items in the new and extended on-board offer. As well as soft and alcoholic drinks, Condor also offers an extensive range of cold and - now new - hot delights such as Asian chicken saté or Italian orechiette pasta.

Those who appreciate the extra touch of service offered by Condor can continue to opt for the all-inclusive version and book Premium Economy Class. On short and medium-haul flights, passengers enjoy pleasant touches such as the unoccupied middle seat and separate check-in, a premium meal and free alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages with their meals. Attractive bonus miles by Miles & More complete the offer. Flights in Premium Economy Class can be booked through tour operators, travel agents or with Condor direct.

"We enable our passengers to choose the level of services they desire for themselves. Thus as a holiday operator, we are following a trend on the European aviation market and the wishes of our passengers, which we establish through regular on-board surveys. At the same time, we are able to continue to offer attractive prices in every class," explains Rainer Kröpke, Condor's Director of Marketing & Product.
